At age 17, which of the following applied to your parents? The sad thing is that people who leave these mindless churches go on a tirade about evangelicalism's lack of reasonableness and intelligence, and young people raised in more reasonable and theologically deep churches go along with the caricature, even though it really was not true in their instance. The spirit behind this should raise red flags in anyone walking in the Spirit. I jolly well wish they would ASK their own congregation for honest and possibly anonymous feedback, as in, what have we got wrong this year? By listening carefully and engaging with young adults on difficult topics, church leaders can help young adults understand their world Biblically.

The youth are the most vulnerable to conversion because they are generally the least mature in Christianity. Many of you jumped to shameful conclusions and chose to bash this man instead of taking it as helpful criticism. To watch the future of a whole generation being obliterated and feel no urge to cry out or do something mitigative is baffling.

In the Bible, there was a Jewish leader who gave a logical answer to the Jews as they tried to condemn Jesus.

Are You a Journaling Dropout?

We are not called to judge, people fall away from church because of reasons like this and instead of taking in the criticism, we call these people evil. The reason is purely to prevent them from realizing that God is myth.

The Top Reasons Young People Drop Out of Church.....

The conclusion from the research is that most young people with a Christian background are dropping out of conventional church involvement, not losing their faith.
