The 2021 AAUP Shared Governance Survey: Findings on Faculty Roles by Decision

Areas of Decision-Making Table 2 lists the twenty-nine areas of institutional decision-making with the wording used in the questionnaire. The major portion of this article will deal with these kinds of differences while latter sections will focus on the faculty as collective entities and related trends within higher education. Academic Freedom and Tenure: A Handbook of the American Association of University Professors.

The Inclusion in Governance of Faculty Members Holding Contingent Appointments

Consequently, an emphasis on faculty members as facilitators of students' learning has emerged.

Governance in US Universities

Although questions continue to be raised about the relationship between collective bargaining and shared governance, this survey did not find statistically significant differences between the two types of institutions in the vast majority of areas, and most of the significant differences it did find related to terms and conditions of employment, where differences would be expected and had been found in previous surveys.

The Inclusion in Governance of Faculty Members Holding Contingent Appointments

The findings are summarized in figures 6, 7, and 8.

Governance in US Universities

If service in a governance role is not explicitly a component of the appointment, it may be recognized as an additional positive factor in the evaluation if the faculty member voluntarily participates in it, but a lack of service should not be considered a negative factor in the evaluation. AAUP Bulletin 59 June 1973 : 266— 67. Cite this chapter as: El-Khawas E.

Governance in US Universities

To the extent that the level of faculty authority in these three areas falls below faculty primacy, institutional responses would seem to represent a departure from normative standards of academic governance as set forth in the Statement on Government. Such institutional policies could include incorporation of appropriate language into faculty handbooks, bylaws, or other regulations.

The 2021 AAUP Shared Governance Survey: Findings on Faculty Roles by Decision

The inclusion in governance roles of faculty who hold contingent appointments has problematic aspects, but it is crucial to establishing strong faculty governance. However, institutional service is not as highly regarded as research and teaching with respect to advancement within faculty ranks.
