Windrush Lake, South Cerney, Cotswolds Waterpark, near Cirencester

Gravel extraction in the Latton area in the 1990s created additional lakes. Deleting a Trip will delete all the items and notes you have added to it.

Beautiful Hotel with room over looking nature reserve

Various colour-forms of may be found as well as. Private rear decking with patio furniture with BBQ. The deluxe room 102 had an accessibility bathroom with a sink so low it was uncomfortable to bend down to use.

De Vere Cotswold Water Park Review: What To REALLY Expect If You Stay

Spa6 is just the place to escape and recharge, with a hydrotherapy pool, experience showers, taste of the art gym and handful of treatment rooms! I live on the very edge of the greenbelt and lo and behold there are proposals for wetland creation to go with a major development there. We stayed for 3 nights before Christmas when luckily, we were from a tier 2 area as was the Cotswolds.

Windrush Lake, South Cerney, Cotswolds Waterpark, near Cirencester

We visited for my partners birthday and from start to finish the weekend was fantastic. All the lakes are beneficial to wildlife and the SSSI covers a wide area surrounding each lake so woodland, scrub and much else will now get protection.

Cotswold Water Park Birdwatching Site

The lakes were created in the second half of the 20th century by extraction of glacial , which had eroded from the , and these filled naturally after working began to cease in the early 1970s. Special places like this form the vital backbone of a nature recovery network.

Cotswold Water Park Birdwatching Site

It is that part of the Upper Thames catchment in North Wiltshire and south Gloucestershire which has been subjected to over 50 years of sand and gravel extraction. The Guest relation Manager was very understanding and seemed quite confused how this had all happened. After a manic

September I headed down to The Cotswolds for a weekend break with my mum and Arabella.
