What Tacitus documents under the flag of dispassion so: laments, protests, contemns? The Vita of St Disibod tells the story of the Irish monk and hermit who founded the monastery of Disibodenberg Rhineland-Palatinate, Germany, while the Vita of St Rupert of Bingen provides a portrait of the man who gave his name to the monastery of Rupertsberg, the first convent founded by Hildegard. This programmatic keynote sets the tone for the rest of the work — and the remainder of the opening paragraph Histories 1.
