Saint Peter's Fair

James 1:22 Do everything for the glory of God.

Saint Peter's fair : the fourth chronicle of Brother Cadfael : Peters, Ellis, 1913

It was not a good choice for a simple tale to read while tired and sleepy. Merchants from all over England come to Shrewsbury for the three-day fair, and the youths of the town have words with one of the merchants when they proclaim at the Fair that it is not fair that the Abbey has all of the revenue.

People are people, regardless of time period. Cadfael gets involved because he's been assigned as interpreter to a Welsh merchant, who claims to know no English. However, the local townspeople are displeased and a row brews between them and the Abbey, when they ask for a proportion of the fair tolls to be given to the town to restore the walls after recent outbreaks of war - seen in earlier books, when the town was besieged.
