Community Development/U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD)

Unfortunately, as people get older, they may find it increasingly difficult to file their taxes properly—particularly since the forms for retirement income are different from what they got used to filing during their working lives. The Virtual Independent Living Services Project is a Paralysis Resource Center State Pilot program with the goal to build supports and services to Texans with disabilities living with paralysis in unserved or underserved areas of the State.

HR Training

Always include a qualified professional or team of professionals from all applicable disciplines in the earliest possible stages of planning this type of addition to your facility. As a subgrantee, Imagine Art will create a virtual community of peers who share common challenges and offer participants opportunities for social interaction and support.

Starting an Adult Day Care

For seniors who own real estate, this can be a stable form of income.

Social interaction, self-esteem, and confidence-building will be at the core of each training. VAIL will specifically develop culturally appropriate training materials, increase awareness through education by creating a video on accessibility in adaptive fitness exercises, and develop an accessible curriculum for people with paralysis-related disabilities and develop skills for people with paralysis related disabilities towards cooking and eating healthier. The importance of conducting an annual inspection is discussed together with record keeping forms for conducting the inspections.
