democratization

There also is skepticism in both parties about the political independence of judges. Development and Change, 45 5 , 920-940.

Politicising Democracy: The New Local Politics of Democratisation (International Political Economy Series)

To assess the importance of political institutions on economic growth Pereira and Teles 2010 developed an econometric model a system GMM estimator with an autoregressive distributed lags using yearly data in a large sample of 109 countries covering a maximum time span from 1975 to 2004. Labour MPs cannot force a change; Tory MPs dare not, for fear of worse to come. It is not only radical voices that are excluded.

Politicising Democracy

Third, parliament should radically reduce its workload, distributing more of its powers to local and devolved government. Survey Report At a time of growing stress on democracy around the world, Americans generally agree on democratic ideals and values that are important for the United States. Masaaki, Okamoto and Abdul Hamid.

Politicising Democracy: The New Local Politics of Democratis

For that reason, a parliamentary system does not entrust a single figure with the full powers of government; instead, it returns 650 different voices, ranging from Diane Abbott and Caroline Lucas to Arlene Foster and Jacob Rees-Mogg. The Individualist Town Councillor will walk along the municipal pavement, lit by municipal gas and cleansed by municipal brooms with the municipal water, and seeing by the municipal clock in the municipal market, that he is too early to meet his children coming from the municipal school hard by the county lunatic asylum and municipal hospital, will use the national telegraph system to tell them not to walk through the municipal park but to come to the municipal tramway, to meet him in the municipal reading room, by the municipal art gallery, museum and library, where he intends ... to prepare his next speech in the municipal town hall, in favour of the nationalisation of the canals and the increase of government control over the railway system.

Democracy

Overwhelming shares in both parties say it is very important that elections are free from tampering 91% of Republicans, 88% of Democrats say this and that voters are knowledgeable about candidates and issues 78% in both parties. This means that there is a need for substantive and more extensive democratization — a process that will work towards improved popular control of more widely defined public affairs on the basis of political equality.
