As soon as I saw this book I knew I had to read it. She received the Presidential Medal of Honor from President Barack Obama in 2014. I hope you will agree that Aboriginal Art is a paradigm breaker and that it meets the criteria in the exercise of critiquing art.

“Who’s Afraid of Colour?”: 118 Aboriginal women artists at NGV Australia

For an exhibition he curated at the Campbelltown City Council in 2008, titled Ngadhu, Ngulili, Ngeaninyagu — A Personal History of Aboriginal Art in the Premier State, Mundine commissioned Esme Timbery to make 200 pairs of shellwork baby shoes or slippers, although only 120 pairs had been made in time for the exhibition. The collection is an unprecedented survey of aboriginal female art from the NGV archives. Their artistic skills were not only a means to ward off poverty and provide economically for their families and communities, but also provided a way to protect and pass down cultural knowledge in the face of the colonial state.
