Most of the study sites have developed a simple and quick process for referring clients to mental health services.

Transforming the Mental Health System

In addition to the need to educate health professionals, service providers and family members, there have also been efforts to deal with the problem at its source by educating the senior. The goal of the department is to provide a variety of services to the child and family in their home, school, and community to reduce the risk of out-of-home placements. Patients should be informed about possible side effects, especially if the effects are related to drug interactions.

Comprehensive Mental Health Services, Inc.

Age-related changes in body metabolism increase the sensitivity of the central nervous system to both alcohol and drugs, causing prolonged effects. We also appreciate the thorough reviews that Nancye Campbell at the Administration for Children and Families and Evvie Becker at ASPE gave to this report. One challenge is obtaining permission from local welfare administrators to participate in client TANF orientation or during job search workshops to talk about mental health services.
