Structure of the British Army

In fact, it is and has always been one of the attributes of citizenship under a free government.

William Henry Foote, 1794

In the latter state, the death penalty was instated by union officers for those caught with arms, and after an order was issued to arm the militia by random seizures of arms, the searches provided the occasion for general looting. No one wanted him in England. In many instances great injustice was done to him, as in regard to the affair of Wyoming, in connexion with which his name has been used by every preceding annalist who has written upon the subject; while it has, moreover, for the same cause, been consigned to infamy, deep and foul, in the deathless song of Campbell.

The conscientious objector clause was removed following objections by Elbridge Gerry, who complained that future Congresses might abuse the exemption to excuse everyone from military service. They grew lots of sugar there.

Life of Joseph Brant

Contrary to the congressman's exaggerations, the proponents of the bill had the justified fear that the opposite development would occur, i. Castle of Good Hope, 21st May, 1802. But from the time of the alliance between the Six Nations and the English, the fires of the united councils of the two powers were kindled at Albany.

The Project Gutenberg eBook of The Loyalists of America and Their Times. Vol II, by Egerton Ryerson, D.D., LL.D.,.

COMMON LAW DEVELOPMENT OF THE RIGHT TO KEEP AND BEAR ARMS The right to keep and bear arms was not created by the Second Amendment; rather, this basic individual right, developed in England before this continent was colonized, pre-dated the constitution and was part of the common law heritage of the thirteen original colonies. Lord Shelburne took occasion to declare his full concurrence in the sentiments of Lord Chatham, expressing 'the strongest disapprobation of every idea tending to admit the independence of America,' although acknowledging that future circumstances might create a necessity for such a submission. That whatever person shall hereafter receive a commission from the crown, or attempt to exercise any such commission heretofore received, shall be deemed an enemy to his country; and upon information to the captain of the company in which he resides, the company shall cause him to be apprehended, and, upon proof of the fact, committed to safe custody, till the next sitting of the committee, who shall deal with him as prudence shall direct.

American Prisoners of the Revolution, by Danske Dandridge

There is nothing fanatical about protecting yourself or within reason fearing the government. Britain sometimes marked the tallest trees for its navy, and colonists resented that, even though there were countless other good trees in the area and the marked tree was going toward a common defense it was the principle.

Similar legislation was passed by the Senate and a conference of the Houses produced a bill which was essentially a modification of the House statute. The rule of course does not apply -where the offences, though long since committed, have recently all come at the same time to the knowledge of the officer preferring the charges.
