Risk Management and Legal Issues in Home Care: The Utilization of Nursing Staff

The benefits and costs of litigious, legislative, and regulatory interventions on the quality of care and the quality of life for recipients of geriatric services is evaluated. From there, it must be determined how that organization can mitigate those risks and limit their impact, and what the potential exposure of those risks would be if they were not contained. In , risks can range from—but aren't limited to—faulty equipment and other hazards, medical malpractice, and procedures.
