Jab bhi car mein beth ta hu bas samne safar ki dua ka print out latka rakha hai. The curved letters of the Qur'an offer a perfect way to describe the tresses and eyebrows of Muhammad: Your eyebrows are verses of the Qur'an, your hair is the commentary of the Qur'an O, your face is our Qur'an, and you are faith, you are faith. This may be due to his Naqshbandi background.

Each technique is discussed individually in the light of examples recorded in actual ritual 11 concerts. Surūd, 345-6 If the difference between the poems of praise and lyrical poems is sometimes difficult to detect in Persian and Urdu poetry, dividing is even more difficult in Hindi poetry. My primary textual source on the qawwali poetry is the collection Surūd-i Rūānī henceforward Surūd, published in 1998.
