

Adolescents under stress in Northern Ireland - the occupational and employment status of fathers, family size and crowding as variables of importance in relation to adolescent behaviour problems in Northern Ireland and the effects of intelligence and perceptions of family size, crowding and parenting styles as moderating variables.

The Author] -

Description: -

-Adolescents under stress in Northern Ireland - the occupational and employment status of fathers, family size and crowding as variables of importance in relation to adolescent behaviour problems in Northern Ireland and the effects of intelligence and perceptions of family size, crowding and parenting styles as moderating variables.

-Adolescents under stress in Northern Ireland - the occupational and employment status of fathers, family size and crowding as variables of importance in relation to adolescent behaviour problems in Northern Ireland and the effects of intelligence and perceptions of family size, crowding and parenting styles as moderating variables.

Notes: Thesis (D. Phil) - University of Ulster, 1988.

This edition was published in 1988

Filesize: 60.41 MB

Tags: #

...

...

.

.

...

..

...

Related Books

- Management of common pulmonary disorders
- Ernest Dowson
- Commonwealth writing - a study in expatriate experience
- Liu hu xia yin
- Taxidia kai oneira