United Nations Security Council resolution 1373 (2001)

The treatment of aviation matters was a subject at the Paris Peace Conference of 1919, and it was entrusted to a special Aeronautical Commission. The ASME Code does not prohibit hydrostatic testing of equipment at 150% of the stated design pressure. A means by which the introduction of weapons, explosives or articles likely to be utilized to commit an act of unlawful interference can be prevented.

Annex 18

When authorized to manufacture a material, part, or appliances to a TSO standard, this is referred to as TSO authorization.

Annex 17

In addition to its historical perspective, this book gives the reader a fundamental understanding of the principles of railroad construction and maintenance in the USA and has several chapters concerned with the wheel—rail interface. This clockwork precision in procedures and systems is made possible by the existence of universally accepted standards. Of those 51 States, only 12 have interactive API iAPI , which facilitates passenger risk assessments in near real-time and alerts border-security agencies and airline carriers to the potential presence of an FTF before they can board a flight.

ICAO ANNEX 17 : Security Safeguarding International Civil Aviation Against Acts of Unlawful Interference

Attention of States is also drawn to the provisions of Annex 15 related to the publication of differences between their national regulations and practices and the related ICAO Standards and Recommended Practices through the Aeronautical Information Service, in addition to the obligation of States under Article 38 of the Convention. A number of specifications were amplified and the status of one was changed to a Standard, related to the segregation and special guarding of aircraft liable to attack during stopovers.

Airservices

However, many States lack clear policies and measures to ensure the security and integrity of the identity and travel-document issuance process, and many have not yet put in place security measures at airports and other border crossings designed to ensure the effective screening of travellers. The main European administrations, aircraft manufacturers, equipment manufacturers and service providers are members of EUROCAE, and they actively participate in the Working Groups which prepare these documents.

SBAS Standards

EUROCAE The European Organisation for Civil Aviation Equipment was formed at LUCERNE on the 24th April, 1963.

Annex 17

The representative bodies of the ICAO are: the Assembly, composed of all Contracting States; the Council, composed of 33 Contracting States elected by the assembly; and a number of Committees Air Navigation, Air Transport, Legal, etc. Many of the Canadian codes, standards, and recommended practices used for electrical utility transmission and distribution systems are also presented. Approved recommendations are published and made available for sale to members and to the public.
