Impacts of World War II on Australia

Melbourne from the air, Vic, ca. Australian women were encouraged to contribute to the war effort by joining one of the female branches of the armed forces or participating in the labour force. Although most Australian civilians lived far from the front line of World War II, the Australian during World War II played a significant role in the victory and led to permanent changes to Australian society. The losses of the Great War were still fresh as Australian soldiers again battled enemy forces overseas, but for those on the home front the war was initially a remote concept.

On the home front : Melbourne in wartime, 1939

The presence of thousands of American soldiers in Melbourne raised new questions about Australian nationalism and identity, and the carnival spirit of many on the home front created anxiety about the issues of drunkenness, gambling and sexuality.
