The Early Days

Those highlighted in the deeper shades of red are highly sought after works.
