demonstrates an technique to medical students at an osteopathic medical school.

The DO

The unbridled arrogance and egotism that was demonstrated elicited a Court injunction in Iowa to prevent this blatant and obvious risk to patient safety a Court action that was successful.

Union Supply Direct

As far as my education goes I will be the first to tell you that my DNP program was hardly worthwhile. The reality is that the healthcare system is in dire need of reform and a combination of care by providers is essential. States with the highest concentration of osteopathic medical physicians are , , and where osteopathic medical physicians comprise 17—20% of the total physician workforce.

Germentown / Memphis

Dearing maintains, noting that he periodically has to modify recommendations made by NPs on his staff. Between 1896 and 1973, osteopathic physicians lobbied state legislatures to pass laws giving those with a DO degree the same legal privilege to practice medicine as those with an MD degree. So I say our best move as MDs or DOs is to provide collegial accessibility in order to optimize care for our patients.

Concepts

And if there is value in therapy that is uniquely osteopathic, why should its use be limited to osteopaths? Kansas City, Mo: Hudson-Kimberly Pub Co; 1902:9—20,185,210,270. Worse- I feel certain that the NPs are fundamentally intellectually dishonest- How? If anything, making certain that under qualified NPs are not allowed to practice without adequate supervision IS compassion and caring for patients.

What would be scary, and potentially harming to patients is a NP who did not understand their limitations and fail to recognize that a patient was indeed suffering from an illness unclear to the NP.

Union Supply Direct

You see, if we say just nurse, then patients expect nursing. Either drop the rhetoric about NPs being essential to increase access to underserved areas and an answer to primary care shortages, or find a way to make it actually happen.
