Bible Map: Lebanon

The first winemaker in Lebanon was Chateau Joseph Spath Chateau Chbat in 1847 at aaramoun kesrouan, later following of winemaker at in 1857 when planted vines from at near in the central. Onward, alternately through upturned limestone strata, left by erosion in fantastic forms, and through barren areas of red sandstone, where the cedars of Lebanon would flourish if protected from the depredations of man and his domestic animals, he crosses by turns at higher and higher levels the headwaters of the Ibrahim, Fedar, Jozeh, Byblus and the Botrys rivers, and at length reaches, on the fourth day, the Qadisha, 5 miles below the cedars of Lebanon. It was then dealt a second crippling blow with the outbreak of the Syrian Revolution in 2011, which divided Lebanese citizens between those who supported the Syrian regime and those in favour of the opposition — especially after Hezbollah joined the conflict directly.
