Smoking Turkey With a Water Pan

Add wood chips or chunks to the coals and adjust the vents on the bottom and top start with the former wide open to obtain your desired temperature—225 to 250 degrees for traditional barbecue. Connecting readers with great books since 1972. Moisture is particularly important during long smokes.

Cook'n Ca'jun water smoker cookbook (1984 edition)

Spine creases, wear to binding and pages from reading. Customer service is our top priority!. If the smoker runs too cool, open the vents wide—more oxygen equals a hotter fire—or add a few additional lumps of charcoal through the access door.

Cook'n Ca'Jun Water Smoker Cookbook by Sondra Hester

About this Item: Cook'n Ca'jun Products, 1984. Connecting readers with great books since 1972.

Cook'n Ca'jun water smoker cookbook (1984 edition)

Over the years I had to continually replace all of the parts individually, one at a time due to rust. Excellent copy of this very useful book-192 pages with color photos throughout-how-to sections on both electric and charcoal cookers-over 140 pages of recipes, sauces and side dishes. If the smoker is running too hot, close the bottom vents and most of the top vents.
