Just a trace of rubbing to the covers and light wear to corners. Early printing, hardcover, has very light bow to boards, slight bumps to spine ends and corners, sunning to spine with fainter sunning to top edge of boards, some slight shelfwear to edges of boards, and areas of rubbing with a few faint smudges to boards, otherwise a solid VG copy.

Goodnight Poems of Eugene Field

And once I jined the 'Piscopils an' had a heap o' fun -But the boss of all the picnics was the Presbyterium! Gilt lettering on spine dulled. You have even left out a compleat verse in 'Pittypat and Tippytoe'.

The poems of Eugene Field. (1911 edition)

When you 've got to the tree, you would have a hard time To capture the fruit which I sing; The tree is so tall that no person could climb To the boughs where the sugar-plums swing! For, as soon as you've fallen asleep, With a jubilant neigh he shall bear you away Over forest and hillside and deep! When gentle spring rolled round again.
