Many reflected upon CARGILL'S LIFE 51 the foresaid lady, that she leaving these worthies a few hours before that in the time they were searching her own house and James Thomson's, which took some time, did not send and advertise them, being a mile distant. He was prepared, no matter what happened to him personally, to discharge God's commission. Wodrow heard, but was slow to believe, that the famous Robert Bruce, when tender and sickly, rode with a brother minister to a meeting of presbytery, through a terrible rain, and yet looked as if there were only 'a little dew upon his clothes,' while his companion was 'wet through and through' Bruce's Sermons and Life, Wodrow Society, p.
