Support for clients with complex needs

An examination of factors influencing delayed discharge of older people from hospital.

Department of Health

A baby, child or young person may be harmed directly or indirectly by physical violence when they are attempting to protect another person.

Complex needs

However, there is little evidence that it works for primary school age children and less still that it works for pre-school age children.

Providing Support at Home for Children and Young People Who Have Complex Health Needs

A child might have complex needs from birth, or after an illness or injury. Because they all work out and they improve quality of life. They can also have multiple changes in placements and caseworkers making consistency of care difficult.

Children and young people with learning disabilities

Evidence tells us that successful reunification relies on the availability of high quality family support, combined with robust assessments and good planning, to avoid repeated unsuccessful efforts at rehabilitation. These include GP general consultations, a range of health assessment services, and chronic disease management services accessed through Chronic Disease Management Plans CDMP or Mental Health Treatment Plans MHTP.
