All networks

The city decided to set up an urban coalition with a series of partners to scale up this positioning in the peri-urban agricultural industry, setting up a stable growth and creating new jobs and skills. Whereas the main European cities attract both students and skilled-workers by their scale and fame, medium-sized cities, like Groningen, will need a policy to attract talent, and to keep them economically active.

LEADER Cooperation

The PED Programme Cities Workshop on 3 April at Nordbahnhof in Vienna therefore invited representatives from cities, city networks, research and funding agencies to develop this important topic of urban transition together and lay basis for further cooperation.

Protection of peri

Many other benefits were reported by the administration in 2012, such as improved public transport and reduced air pollution. As a result of their location, these cities face today some common challenges, such as territorial fragmentation or the need to adapt to the new demands for uses and activities in the process of post-industrialisation and of new tertiary activities.
