Suehiro “Gensai” Daiginjo Sake

Luckily, there remained a few talented individuals who persevered and produced swords in the traditional manner. There are too many modern accounts of the use of the sword as personal combat weapon to dismiss it as a mere symbol of authority. He cut them with a file one line at a time as did Gassan Sadakazu and a few others, reportedly in imitation of the famed shinshinto smith, Hosokawa Masayoshi and his followers.

The Shogo FAQ

The Nihonto Koza suggests Sadamitsu is a separate person. Yasunori was famous as the maker of Admiral's and Field Marshall's swords, and in the latter 1930's, especially Showa 11 and 12, won more prizes than the other Yasukuni Jinja smiths.

Shogo Taguchi

It is ubu, with kiri yasurime and one mekugi-ana. Swords made in this fashion are frequently the objects of scorn among collectors.

. Hopefully, however, it will raise one or two interesting points for your consideration. Robinson, Albert Yamanaka, and John Yumoto, for example, are said to have come from the Honami Koson school of appreciation, and much of the written material by these scholars reflects opinions held in the early part of this century.

Fascist and Quasi

Their primary purpose is to show that in addition to being a good martial artist, the individual is also a good teacher.

JAPANESE GENDAI SWORDSMITHS

The hamon is an exuberant tadpole choji in nioi, with very long ashi, tobiyaki, kinsuji and abundant sunagashi. Swords produced there are frequently cited among the best gendaito made. A teacher awarded the title renshi is typically allowed to wear a belt that is half red, half white.
