Challenges may also arise post-market launch, as new market learning may be needed for successful adoption and impact.

Grabbing Lightning. Building a Capability for Breakthrough Innovation. Edition No. 1

Altran is an integral part of Capgemini, a global leader in consulting, digital transformation, technology and engineering services. Large, mature companies often struggle when it comes to the uncertain process of breakthrough innovation. I think that it is an entirely different perspective than if you look into a factory making 10 million units per year with some well-defined variants.

Building a Capability for Breakthrough Innovation: Executive Overview

Towards an economic theory of the multiproduct firm. Time required to patent is often longer for radical innovation projects.
