Studies of a Biographer/Matthew Arnold

In his written word, Joseph B. Unity must be sought, not by the triumph of one set of dogmas, but all equally absolute, but by giving up dogma, or treating it as essentially poetry, and admitting that to take it as a prosaic statement of fact always is and always has been a blunder.

Marcus asks us to go on pinning our faith on education; but by his own showing, colleges are now doing as much to destroy culture as to uphold it. Different scientists have tried to solve it over the past two centuries—unsuccessfully. As opposed to larger photograph archives that are associated with a particular photographer or original collector, the PPC consists of smaller acquisitions.
