How labels, packages, and medicine names can cause confusion and errors

I think that for most humans, if we can't put a label on someone or something, then that scares us, because as people, the unknown scares us.

Using Medications Safely

The federal government can take legal action against companies and websites that sell dietary supplements when the companies make false or deceptive statements about their products, if they promote them as treatments or cures for diseases, or if their products are unsafe. We reserve the right to delete any comment for any reason at any time.

Medication & Treatments

While Trump made false statements about hydroxychloroquine and chloroquine, the fact remains that several reports from reputable quarters suggest the drugs may reduce the severity of infection.

Using Medications Safely

For women living with , the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention CDC recommends using zidovudine AZT during pregnancy.

Traject

We can HAVE something e. In animals, pregnant animals treated with the medicine had some babies with problems. This is because we are prejudece to what who we are.
