The Forgotten Ones. Women and Children under Nippon by Shirley Fenton Huie

If people change their ways, Our Lord will still spare the world; but if they do not, the chastisement will come. Since the children are of the same nature as Our Lady, one could surmise that this may explain why the children were more at ease with Our Lady.

The Problem of Giftedness

All the other kids were managing it.

[Assisting the Forgotten Ones

If your children aren't gifted, that's fine too, because they may have talents that haven't yet been discovered and they can still do their best and become successful.

Nothing 'Woke' About the Toxic Indoctrination of Our Children

When our children get caught in the small non-urgent tasks, it pulls them away from the more important aims requiring their attention.
