REDFIN DIARIES: A LIFE IN THE YEAR OF A ROACH ENTHUSIAST. By Mark Everard. De luxe leather

At spawning time these primarily marine-dwelling cutthroat dart into their small, brush-canopied creeks to complete the spawning ritual during high water periods, usually from November through February but sometimes as late as May. Les Johnson photo The coastal cutthroat embraces its hardscrabble life from the moment it comes out of the gravel, when it is pushed from the best water by larger, earlier emerged coho salmon. This problem spurred the invention of the regulator to evenly spool the line out and prevent tangling.
