The House Committee on Ethics. His constituency did not change dramatically. So I commend you for your efforts, but I hope that this is something where the community can work together to develop the information necessary, but then we can also--it's got to be all of government to react to take the information and act upon it.

Military Hot Documents

That's one of the aspects of the conversation, which is healthy. There has been silence today in response to our request, though I understand the majority of EPW may now finally be interested in holding the hearing.
