United States Institute of Peace

Value life in what ever house it dwells. Several speakers underscored that State bears the primary responsibility for the protection of civilians and highlighted the importance of their accountability, and the role of national level institutions playing their role in this regard.

Report of the Secretary

The event served as a critical stepping-stone towards implementation by all the Secretariat, Security Council members, financial-, troop-, and police-contributors, host countries and regional organizations.

Join Business for Peace

They recognize that ending poverty and other deprivations must go hand-in-hand with strategies that improve health and education, reduce inequality, and spur economic growth — all while tackling climate change and working to preserve our oceans and forests. Notwithstanding their sheer numerical superiority, the many Members of the United Nations are much too weak to attempt to challenge the decisions made at the Security Council. They stressed the need to ensure continuity of peacebuilding tasks during peacekeeping transitions and drawdown; the role of women and youth in peacebuilding; the importance of institution-building particularly the role of police, justice and corrections.
