Samford University Accreditation

Institutions support the success of all students and seek to understand and improve student success Institutional Integrity, Sustainability, and Accountability Institutions recognize that the public has entrusted them with the critical responsibilities of upholding the values of higher education and contributing to the public good. Engaging the wider academic community and addressing one or more issues that contribute to institutional improvement, the plan should be focused, succinct, and limited in length.

Academic Accreditation and Assessment Management Software

A cohort-style program was developed owing to the large number of courses converting to online format and the need for increased numbers of faculty prepared for online teaching. Consistent with its mission, the institution endeavors to enhance the communities it serves.

Standard 4. Creating an Organization Committed to Quality Assurance, Institutional Learning, and Improvement

Not only does an outcome clarify the learning in question, the language of the outcome will direct the work of the project itself. This process is called reaffirmation of accreditation.

Institutional Accreditation

Good outcomes should make assessment easy. There should be an adequate core of faculty and other qualified professionals that is responsible to the institution, supports the programs offered, and assures the continuity and coherence of the institution's programs. Through its evaluation activities the Commission provides public assurance about the educational quality of degree-granting institutions that seek or wish to maintain accreditation.
