Robber baron (industrialist)

Things like the invention of the ship, the railroad, the newspaper, the radio, the television, and now the internet. The money that built those lines did not come from the railroad men themselves—Leland Stanford, Collis Huntington, Henry Villard, James J.

Leland Stanford

Tax big business and the phony philanthropists! In the twentieth century and the twenty-first they became entrepreneurs, necessary business revolutionaries, ruthlessly changing existing practices and demonstrating the protean nature of American capitalism. Not just telling them how you watched others do it.

Greed, in all of its forms; greed for life, for money, for love, knowledge has marked the upward surge of mankind. Yes, the wealth and power and money and prestige and everything else that went along with it were certainly real — just like how the gold is real — but the apparent wealth and prosperity — just like the gold — hid a much darker secret locked beneath. The metaphor appeared as early as February 9, 1859, when used it to characterize the business practices of.

The Anatomy of Prejudice: Origins of the Robber Baron Legend

For one thing, he refused to spend his wealth as a rich man was supposed to.
