Papers of Burke and Wills Expedition

HISTORICAL MATERIAL Looking more closely at the historical material and walking the ground, it became pretty clear to us that there are other ways to look at the cluster of Coolibahs standing by Cooper Creek that were being trampled around by legions of tourists.

Bibliography

King collected a lot of nardoo on 24 June, but told Wills that he could no longer keep up the work. However, Burke declined his offer, possibly because Cadell had opposed Burke's appointment as leader of the expedition.

The Burke and Wills Historical Society

McKinlay was born at Sandbank, on the Clyde, in 1819, and first came to the colony of New South Wales in 1836, where he joined his uncle, a prosperous grazier, under whose guidance he soon became a good bushman with an ardent love of bush life.

Burke and Wills: The Scientific Legacy of the Victorian Exploring Expedition

A vessel might start much sooner, but the camels will not be fit to travel in a much shorter time I have the honor to be, Sir, Your most obedient servant, W Wright, Officer in Charge. We followed along the bends of the creek by moonlight, and found the creek wind about very much, taking on the whole a north-east course.
