Journal of Appreciative Education

While running the inn had been our family's bread and butter for generations, music had ever and always been our manna. Are you using Appreciative Education in practice? Not even Papa had been able to make peace between them, for he always deferred to his mother even as he preferred to side with his wife. Despite what Mother believed, we were not living in a fairy tale of Constanze's own making, but a terrible, terrible reality.
