Blood transfusion

Plasma substitutes alone are administered until the hematocrit falls below 30% of coagulation difficulties develop. Many of the solutions used for initial perfusion with subsequent cold storage are based on the solutions of Collins et al.

Blood Substitutes

These new plasma expanders promote tissue perfusion, increasing oxygen delivery capacity without increasing blood oxygen-carrying capacity, thus treating the effects of anemia while avoiding the transfusion of blood.

Quality Alternatives to Transfusion

Of considerable interest is the fact that I often forget that the patient is a Witness until at the time of discharge when they thank me for having respected their religious beliefs.

Blood transfusion

However, the smallest molecules are also the first to be cleared from the bloodstream i.
